To Whom It May Concern:

Recruiting a physician for a small rural hospital can be very challenging. Our opportunity certainly was no exception. Arthur Marshall took on this challenge. Many recruiting firms will work hard on your opportunity for a few months then basically stop working. This was not true with Arthur Marshall. They continued their search and were very good about communicating the status of the search with me.

The hard work and perseverance finally paid off. With Arthur Marshall's help we were able to sign an exceptional person and physician who will fit in our community.

We would certainly choose Arthur Marshall to conduct additional searches if the need arises.

Sincerely,
